

Request to Donors for Research Grounds and Probable Assistance

Many governmental and Non-governmental organizations in the world today have directed their resources to HIV/AIDS and in particular to the Sub-Saharan region. This is a true statement because other common or emerging health concerns like Diabetes are not in the picture. However to the surprise of many people, diabetes is killing many unsuspecting people and the rate of new diabetes cases is rising day by day. Many people in Sub-Saharan Africa are ignorant of Diabetes and many other major associated ailments. People have visited health centers and hospitals after falling sick only to be surprised that they are diabetic. Personally I have encountered many people who have been admitted to hospital beds when they visit hospitals only to be told sugar levels are high and they should be under the care of medical staff to monitor their sugar levels to prevent sudden death. This is very unfortunate to many families.

In this regard we have come up with a Non- Governmental Organization (NGO) that educates and disseminates necessary information to people and referring them to health care providers as the first option, but at the same time after affected people have been examined by doctors and or health care providers, we give them locally available medicine which has been researched and found out to be very effective and balances body sugars and then cures diabetes and many other ailments. The organization has discovered many people are suffering without their knowledge and it has embarked in organizing people into groups that are then given necessary advice. Consequently we are receiving an overwhelming response from communities seeking advice, information and cure from us because they have heard of us. Already many have benefitted and more are on the plan. Several centers have been started or set up and currently there is a membership of more than 170 people who have received information and treatment within a small catchment area. The nature of our work needs to be properly documented so that at one point research work should be undertaken.

However, there are many challenges that have emerged that we need assistance so as to reach as many people as possible have their records and probably start research work. Of all the people who have attended our clinics, none of them are unable to clear the costs of this medicine because of poverty levels. Many of them disappear after their sugar levels stabilize. With this project, we are writing this message to all those who are interested in research and those who may offer any assistance, be it information or financial assistance to come aboard from anywhere in the world. We need collaboration from various partners and there is a lot to research on.

Educational institutions especially research centers and universities may be of a great help so that we may achieve our goals. Through this collaboration Diabetes can be contained and information disseminated to all people for better health practices just like HIV/AIDS pandemic has been dealt with. We have all it takes to achieve our set goals but only deterred by finances and other resources to capture important data.
